OsteoProCare provides important nutrients to support and promote bone and joint health, immune system health, and our overall well-being! *

Vitamin D3 has an important role in immune system function

A healthy immune system requires a variety of vitamins and nutrients to do its job properly. Vitamin D3 is a fat-soluble vitamin that promotes proper calcium absorption and utilization. It is essential for the maintenance and regeneration of skeletal muscle and bone, and is vital for mitochondrial health. *

Adequate calcium with vitamin D as a part of healthful diet, along with physical activity may reduce the risk of osteoporosis later in life. *
